

Welcome to Buckeye , Arizona

Founded in 1888 as a 440 acre Town, today the City of Buckeye is Arizona's largest city by land area, with over 639 square miles. It is the fastest growing large city in the United States, and is the fastest growing city within Arizona. Projections show that Buckeye's population is expected to grow from 86,000 residents today to more than 305,000 by 2040. Over the past several years, Buckeye has issued approximately 2,400 new residential building permits per year, and we are projecting even faster growth throughout 2020. As the City of Buckeye continues to grow we are quickly becoming a hub for new business and economic projects, and are living up to our motto as "Arizona's Biggest Opportunity".

City of Buckeye General Plan

Population Growth

Since 2000, Buckeye's population has grown from 6,537 to an estimated 86,000 today, or an increase of over 79,000 people. Growth within Buckeye is expected to increase in the coming years, as other areas within metro Phoenix are built out or are constrained by physical and geopolitical limitations (i.e. Indian communities, U.S. Forest Service lands, mountain ranges, etc.). Buckeye's entitled land can support an ultimate buildout population of over 1.5 million, which would make it the second most populous city in Arizona after the City of Phoenix.
